

RSPH Diploma in Healthcare Science (Anatomical Pathology Technology)

		Please arrive at Birmingham Women's Hospital for 13:30 for registration for all exams
Level 3	All exams	Please confirm exam room before attending
		Please confirm exam room before attending
		Please confirm exam room before attending
		Please confirm exam room before attending
Level 4	All exams	Please confirm exam room before attending
		Please confirm exam room before attending
		Please confirm exam room before attending

Getting to the Birmingham Women's Hospital

Address: Birmingham Women's Hospital, Mindelsohn Way, Edgbaston, Birmingham, B15 2TG

Telephone: Mortuary 0121-335-8210

By Road	Birmingham Women's Hospital is located in Edgbaston and is easily accessible from Birmingham city center via the A38 Bristol Road. The hospital is within easy access of Junction 4 of the M5 motorway. The Hospital is situated next to University Hospital Birmingham. Follow road signs. Signs may refer to Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham.
Car Parking	Nearest car park to the Women's Hospital is Car Park D (See attached Map). Once you come out of the car park, turn right and the women's Hospital is in view at the top of the road.

Car parking charges

Disabled parking (see information on this page)	Free
Up to 1 hour	£3.90
Up to 3 hours	£5.90
Up to 4 hours	£6.80
Up to 5 hours	£7.80
Up to 6 hours	£8.80
Up to 8 hours	£9.80
Over 8 hours	£19.50
Weekly ticket	£27.40

Parking is always very busy – make sure you leave enough time to find a space

By Bus

Birmingham Women’s Hospital (WBH) is served by a number of bus routes that stop outside the main entrance at University Hospital Birmingham (QEHB) or are a short walk from the hospital on New Fosse Way. Walk up the slope heading away from the QEHB main entrance and past the Harborne Hospital. Cross the pelican crossing to Birmingham Women’s Hospital.

More information on how to get to WBH by bus is available on the Transport for West Midlands website.

How to get to a hospital | Transport for West Midlands \(tfwm.org.uk\)

By Rail

The closest railway station to BWH is University, which is around five minutes’ walk from the hospital.

University railway station is on the Cross-City and Cross-Country line. There are trains approximately every 15 minutes from Birmingham New Street towards Bromsgrove or Redditch. Certain services from Birmingham New Street towards Hereford and Cardiff also stop at University.

The station does not have any parking available. It has step-free access for those with limited mobility.

Exam Venue:

Main Birmingham Women's Hospital building.

Go to the main entrance and ask at the welcome desk for directions to the confirmed exam venue.

Site Map

Map of Queen Elizabeth Hospital Birmingham \(uhb.nhs.uk\)

